1.4 Types of company

There are a number of types of company available to be registered under the Companies Act 2014. The majority of companies registered in Ireland are private limited companies and, of those, most are small with only one or two members.

There are a number of types of private company, which can be incorporated under the Companies Act 2014:

- Private company limited by shares (LTD)
- Designated Activity Company (DAC) limited by shares
- Designated Activity Company (DAC) limited by guarantee
- Private Unlimited Company (ULC)

There are several types of public company:

- Public Limited Company (PLC)
- Public Unlimited Company (with shares)(PUC)
- Public Unlimited Company (without shares)(PULC)
- Company Limited by Guarantee (CLG)
- Societas Europaea (SE)

1.5 Additional information

All forms (and associated filing fees) and information leaflets referred to in this publication are available at www.cro.ie.

1.6 Caution

This leaflet does not seek to interpret the Companies Act in any way. While the staff of the CRO will answer any questions you may have, setting up a company brings with it many obligations and entails consequent expense. It may be worthwhile taking advice from a solicitor or accountant as to whether an incorporated company is the best way for you to run your particular business.

2. COMPANY TYPES

2.1 What is a limited company?

The shares in a company are owned by its shareholders. If the company is a limited liability company, the shareholders' liability, should the company fail, is limited to the amount, if any, remaining unpaid on the shares held by them. A company is regarded as a separate legal entity and, therefore, is separate and distinct from those who run it. The company (and not the individual shareholders) is the appropriate person to be sued in the event that debts are incurred by the company which remain unpaid despite demand.

There are several types of limited companies:

A private company limited by shares (LTD): The members' liability, if the company is wound up, is limited to the amount, if any, unpaid on the shares they hold. The maximum number of members is 149. A LTD company does not have a memorandum of association. A LTD company can have one director if required. (If it has one director only, it must have a separate secretary). A LTD company has no objects stated in its constitution. It cannot be a credit institution or insurance undertaking.

A designated activity company limited by shares (DAC): The members' liability, if the company is wound up, is limited to the amount, if any, unpaid on the shares they hold. The maximum number of members is 149. A DAC company does have a memorandum of association in its constitution specifying its objects. A DAC company must have at least two directors.

A company limited by guarantee having a share capital (DAC): As this is a private company, the maximum number of members is 149. The members have liability under two headings; firstly, the amount, if any, that is unpaid on the shares they hold, and secondly, the amount they have undertaken to contribute to the assets of the company, in the event that it is wound up, being not less than €1. Such a company under the new Act is a Designated Activity Company and has specific objects set out in its constitution. A DAC company must have at least two directors.

A company limited by guarantee not having a share capital (CLG): This is a public company type. The members' liability is limited to the amount they have undertaken to contribute to the assets of the company, in the event it is wound up, not exceeding a specified amount and subject to a minimum of €1. If a guarantee company does not have a share capital, the members are not required to buy any shares in the company. Many charitable and professional bodies find this form of company to be a suitable vehicle as they wish to secure the benefits of separate legal personality and of limited liability but do not require to raise funds from the members. A CLG company must have at least two directors.

A public limited company (PLC): The liability is limited to the amount, if any, unpaid on shares held by the members. It should be noted that it is unlawful to issue any form of prospectus except in compliance with the Companies Act. A PLC company must have at least two directors.

2.1.1 What are the characteristics of a limited company?

- Unlike a sole trader or partnership, the company has a separate legal existence. This means that it is the company itself which owns property and that it is the company which may sue and be sued in respect of the business of the company.
- The company continues to trade irrespective of director or management changes until the company is wound up.
- There is limited liability. This means that, should the company fail, the shareholders' liability is limited to the amount of share capital contributed by them (i.e. the price of the shares held by them). The personal assets of directors/shareholders cannot be seized to pay off company debts.

2.2 What is an unlimited company?

In an unlimited company, there is no limit on the liability of the members. Recourse may be had by creditors to the shareholders in respect of liabilities that may be owed by the company which the company had failed to discharge.

2.3 What is a UCIT?

A UCIT is a public limited company formed under EU Regulation (European Communities (Undertakings for Collective Investment in Transferable Securities) Regulations 1989 & 1999) and the Companies Act 2014. The sole object of a UCIT is the collective investment in transferable securities of capital raised from the public that operates on the principle of risk-spreading.

The competent authority, which must approve all registrations of UCITS that wish to carry on activities within the State, is the Central Bank of Ireland.

2.3.1 How can I register a UCIT?

Submit Form A1 (form of incorporation of a new company) and the draft memorandum and articles of association to the CRO.

2.4 What is a Societas Europaea?

A Societas Europaea or SE is a European public limited company formed under EU Regulation (Council Regulation 2157/2001) and Statutory Instrument 21 of 2007. SE's can be formed by merger, as a holding company or subsidiary or by conversion from a plc. Article 3 and 10 of the Regulation requires Member States to treat an SE as if it is a public limited company formed in accordance with the law of the Member State in which it has its registered office.

An SE can be formed in several different ways, each with different requirements:

- by merger,
- as a holding company,
- as a subsidiary,
- an SE can form a subsidiary SE.
- an SE can be formed by a PLC converting into an SE.

Upon registration, an SE has legal personality. The registered office and the head office must be in the same Member State. A Societas Europaea has share capital and no shareholder is liable for more than the amount subscribed. An SE is required to have a minimum amount of subscribed share capital of at least EUR 120,000. Please see Information Leaflet 19 - Societas Europaea.

2.5 What is an EEIG?

EEIG's are provided for under SI No. 191 of 1989 - European Communities (European Economic Interest Groupings) Regulations 1989 and SI No. 447 of 2010 European Communities (European Interest Groupings)(Amendment) regulations 2010. It is a mechanism through which business within the EU can engage in cross-border commerce. The purpose of an EEIG is to facilitate or develop the economic activities of its members.

An EEIG must have a minimum of two members, who may be companies or natural persons, from different Member States. The manager of a Grouping may be a natural person or a body corporate.

On registration, a Grouping shall be a body corporate, have perpetual succession and a common seal and have legal personality

2.5.1 How can I register an EEIG?

Form IG1 must be completed and lodged together with the contract signed by the members. The contract should include:

- Name of Grouping
- Official address
- Objects of the Grouping
- Name, business name, legal form, permanent address or registered office, number, and place of registration, if any, of each member
- The duration of the Grouping, except where indefinite.

3. FORMING A COMPANY

3.1 Who may form a company?

The Companies Act 2014 generally allows one or more persons to form a private company for any lawful purpose by subscribing to a constitution. A private company may have a maximum of 149 members and there is no limit on the number of members of a public company.

3.2 How do I form a company?

You need to send the following documents, together with the registration fee, to the CRO:

- Constitution

This document sets out the conditions upon which the company is granted incorporation. It must contain provisions dealing with certain matters e.g. the name of the company and, if it is a company with limited liability, that fact must be also stated. The constitution will not state any objects if the company is a LTD - private company limited by shares.

This document sets out the rules under which the company proposes to regulate its affairs. Articles must be printed and divided into paragraphs and numbered consecutively.

The CRO does not provide drafts of the constitution to be used by companies other than the constitution as described in the Schedules to the Companies Act 2014. Samples of such documents may be obtained from legal stationers, accountants, solicitors or company formation agents.

Company Type	Constitution format
LTD - Private company limited by shares	Schedule 1
DAC - Designated activity company limited by shares	Schedule 7
DAC - Designated activity company limited by guarantee	Schedule 8
PLC - Public limited company	Schedule 9
CLG - Company limited by guarantee	Schedule 10
ULC - Private unlimited company having a share capital	Schedule 11
PUC - Public unlimited company having a share capital	Schedule 12
PULC - Public unlimited company not having a share capital	Schedule 13

- Form A1

This form requires you to give details of the company name, its registered office, its email address, details of its secretary and directors, their consent to acting as such, the subscribers and details of their shares (if any). It incorporates a declaration that the requirements of the Companies Act 2014 have been complied with, and as to which activity the company is being formed to engage in.

3.3 What is a registered office address?

It is the address of a company to which CRO correspondence and all formal legal notices addressed to the company will be sent. The registered office can be anywhere in the State. The address must be a physical location, not just a post office box number, because people have the right to visit the company's registered office to inspect certain registers and documents and to deliver documents by hand.

It is vital a company keeps the CRO informed of the location of its registered office address. A company notifies its change of address by sending a completed Form B2 within 14 days of the date of the change. The form may be filed free of charge online by completing the web version on www.core.ie.

It is possible to have a registered office in the care of Registration Office Agent (ROA). The agent must have been previously approved by the CRO and the registered office will remain that of the ROA until such time as the company files a Form B2 to update the registered office address and to remove the agent.

3.4 What is the minimum number of officers required by a company?

All company types, with the exception of the Private Company Limited by Shares (LTD), must have one secretary and a minimum of two directors, one of whom is required to be an EEA-resident (see 3.5 below). The exception in the case of the LTD company - Private company limited by Shares registered under Part 2 of the Companies Act 2014, is that they may have only one director if they so choose. The EEA residency requirement applies to a LTD company also.

The secretary may be one of the directors of the company. A body corporate may act as secretary to another company, but not to itself. In a single director company (LTD), the director cannot also be the secretary. The director(s) has/have a duty to ensure that the person appointed as secretary has the skills necessary to discharge his/her statutory and other legal duties as may be delegated by the director(s).

All company officers have wide responsibilities in law. The key requirements are contained in Information Leaflets No. 16, "The Company Secretary" and No. 2, "Six things that every company director should know about company registration", and Office of the Director of Corporate Enforcement's Information Book 2, "Company Directors", available at www.odce.ie

3.5 Is there any exemption from the requirement to have a resident director?

At least one of the directors is required to be resident in a member state of the European Economic Area (EEA). However, this requirement does not apply to any company which holds a bond, in the prescribed form (see Appendix 1), in force to the value of €25,000. The bond provides that, in the event of a failure by the company to pay the whole or part of a fine imposed in respect of an offence under the Companies Act 2014 or the Taxes Consolidation Act 1997, or a penalty under the latter legislation, an amount of money up to the value of the bond will be paid by the surety in discharge of the company's liability.

For further information on the definition of "resident in a member State" and bonds in general, see Information Leaflet No. 17, "Requirement to have an EEA-Resident Director".

3.6 Can anyone be a company director?

In general terms, yes. Formal qualifications are not required. However, certain persons may not become directors:

- a body corporate
- an undischarged bankrupt
- an auditor of the company
- anyone under the age of eighteen. (section 131 Companies Act 2014)
- as specified by the constitution e.g. if a director fails to attend board meetings without reasonable excuse for a specified period of time, or he/she becomes of unsound mind
- a person disqualified as a director by the High Court under section 842 Companies Act 2014 is debarred from becoming a director for the period specified in the court order<sup>1</sup>
- a person who has been convicted on indictment of any indictable offence in relation to a company, or any indictable offence involving fraud or dishonesty, is automatically disqualified for five years (or for such period as the court may order) from being appointed as a director or from being concerned in any way in the promotion, management or formation of any company
- if an appointment as director would cause a person to exceed the statutory limit on the number of directorships imposed by section 142 Companies Act 2014, that appointment is void (see 3.7 below)

A person restricted as a director by the High Court pursuant to section 819 Companies Act 2014 may not become a director of a company for a period of five years, unless the company has a minimum fully paid up share capital of €500,000 in the case of a public limited company or public unlimited company, or €100,000 (any other company).

3.7 Is there a limitation on the number of Irish directorships that may be held by a person?

Yes – a person shall not at a particular time be a director of more than 25 companies.

Certain companies, however, are not reckoned for the purpose of calculating the number of companies of which a person is a director. The following categories of company are not reckoned in the assessment of a person's number of directorships:

- (a) a public limited company
- (b) a company in respect of which a certificate under section 140 Companies Act 2014 is in force

Where a person is a director of two or more companies, one of which is the holding company of the other(s), these are counted as the one company.

In addition, where the company is a company falling within one or more categories of company specified in the table to section 142 Companies Act 2014<sup>2</sup>, the director or the company may deliver to the Registrar Form B68 for her consideration.

Form B68 is required to be signed by:

- (a) either a director or secretary where the company in question wishes to be excluded from consideration for the purposes of calculating the number of companies of which any person is a director for the purposes of section 142, or
- (b) a person who is or expects to become a director of the company concerned and who wishes it to be excluded from consideration in calculating the number of companies of which he/she is a director for the purposes of section 142.

If the Registrar refuses to issue a certificate on foot of a Form B68, there is a right of appeal to the Minister for Business, Enterprise & Innovation, who has the right to substitute his/her decision for that of the Registrar. The Minister can also direct that a company is not to be included amongst the companies that are reckoned for the purposes of section 142(1).

Any person who contravenes section 142(1) is guilty of a category 4 offence. An appointment of a person as a director of a company which contravenes section 142(1) is void.

3.8 May a director/secretary, who is currently disqualified in another jurisdiction from acting as such, be appointed as a director on incorporation?

Yes. However, if a person who is being appointed director of a company is a person who is currently disqualified under the law of another state (whether pursuant to an order of a judge or a tribunal or otherwise) from being appointed or acting as a director or secretary of a body corporate or undertaking, that person is required by law<sup>3</sup> to ensure that the Form A1 is accompanied Form B74. On receipt of a Form B74, the CRO notifies it to the Office of the Director of Corporate Enforcement (ODCE). The ODCE may apply to the High Court pursuant to have a person who is disqualified abroad disqualified in this jurisdiction also. The High Court may make such order if it is satisfied that, if the conduct of the person which gave rise to the order being made against him had occurred in Ireland, it would have been proper to make a section 842 disqualification order against him.

If Form B74 is not delivered with Form A1 or if the form is false or misleading in a material respect, then upon the delivery to the CRO of Form A1, the individual concerned is deemed to be subject to a disqualification order for the remainder of period of the foreign disqualification.

1. A company that is the holder of a licence under section 9 Central Bank Act 1971 or is exempt from the requirement under that Act to hold such a licence.
2. A company falling within any provision (in so far as applicable to a private company limited by shares) of Schedule 5 Companies Act 2014 (see Appendix 2).

Non-delivery of Form B74 with Form A1 when it should have been delivered accordingly results in automatic disqualification of the individual concerned from acting as auditor, director or other officer, receiver, liquidator or examiner and precludes him/her from in any way, whether directly or indirectly, being concerned or taking part in the promotion, formation or management of any company or any society registered under the Industrial and Provident Societies Acts 1893-2014.

3.9 Must the company carry on an activity in the State?

A company will not be incorporated unless it appears to the Registrar of Companies that the company, when registered, will carry on an activity in the Republic of Ireland. "Activity" means "any activity that a company may be lawfully formed to carry on and includes the holding, acquisition or disposal of property of whatsoever kind".

Form A1 contains a declaration that one of the purposes for which the company is being formed is the carrying on by it of an activity in the State. The declaration contains the following particulars:

- the general nature of the activity and the appropriate NACE code classification (The NACE code is the common basis for statistical classifications of economic activities within the EU and can be accessed on www.cro.ie.)
- the place(s) in the State where it is proposed to carry on the activity
- the place, whether in the State or not, where the central administration of the company will normally be conducted

In the event a company is being formed to conduct two or more activities within the State, the particulars to be furnished on Form A1 relate to the principal activity. Even though a LTD Company - private limited by shares company registered under Part 2 Companies Act 2014 - does not have stated objects in its constitution it is still required to provide the NACE code information on the form A1.

3.10 What happens to the documents sent to the CRO?

All documents are subject to checks (see Appendix 3 for checklist). If the application and proposed company name are in order, a certificate of incorporation will issue to the presenter. The documents delivered are retained by the CRO and are made available for public inspection.

4. COMPANY NAMES

4.1 Can I choose any name I want for my company?

No, there are restrictions on your choice of company name. The CRO may have to refuse a name if:

- it is identical to or too similar to a name already appearing on the register of companies
- it is offensive
- it would suggest state sponsorship

The following guidelines will assist you in assessing the acceptability or otherwise of company names:

You are advised not to incur expenses relating to the proposed name (e.g. preparing signs, headed notepaper, stationery, etc.) in advance of receipt of the certificate of incorporation that will confirm that the company has been registered with the chosen name.

- It is generally recommended that company names include extra words so as to create a sufficient distinction between names. Certain words and their abbreviations together with accents and punctuation marks are not sufficient to distinguish between company names. Examples of such words include the definite article and the words “company”, “co”, “corporation”, “and”, “&”, “service”, “services”, “limited”, etc. Place names are not considered to be a sufficient distinction between company names, e.g. Ireland, Dublin, West, etc.
- Similar descriptive elements, e.g. press/printing, staff/employment agency, or the inclusion of only a general or weak qualification such as “holding”, “group”, “system”, “services”, “international”, etc. may not be regarded as a sufficient distinction between company names.
- Particular care should be taken with names considered to have a distinctive element i.e. names consisting primarily of made-up words or non-dictionary words. The inclusion of qualifying words may not be sufficient to create a distinction between company names.
- Names which are phonetically and/or visually similar will be refused. This includes names where there is a slight variation in the spelling and the variation does not make a significant difference between the names.
- A number on its own will not be accepted as a sufficient distinguishing mark, unless the company concerned is part of the same group.
- The use of a year in numerals to differentiate between two companies of otherwise the same name is prohibited.

The following restrictions also apply to company names:

- Names containing certain words cannot be used unless approved by relevant bodies. For example, the words “bank”, “banc”, “banking”, “banker” may only be used with the permission of the Central Bank of Ireland. This also applies to names such as “hollybank”, “sweetbank”, “canal bank”, “bancorp”, etc. and the surname “Banks”, notwithstanding the fact that the company being incorporated may not intend to carry on banking business.
- The word “society”, “co-op” or “co-operative” cannot be used unless permission has been sought from and granted by the Registrar of Friendly Societies.
- The words “University” and “Institute of Technology” or “Regional Technical College” cannot be used unless permission has been sought from and granted by the Department of Education.
- In the case of the word “Charity”, further information may be sought by the CRO to support the application.

- If a name includes words which imply specific functions, e.g. “holding”, “group”, etc., further information may be required by the CRO to support the application.
- The use of the word “standard” is prohibited.
- The use of the word “Credit Union” is prohibited under the Credit Union Act 1997.
- The word “architect” either alone or in combination with any other words or letters, or name, title or description implying that the person is so registered, cannot be used unless a Notice of Determination has been issued by the Royal Institute of the Architects of Ireland (RIAI). This does not apply to the names “landscape architect”, “naval architect”, “architectural technician”, “architectural technologist”, and “interior design architect” and similar terms.

Company types:

Only companies which are particular company types may have the following words in their name:-

- Limited (ltd) - Teoranta (teo)
Public Limited Company (plc) - Cuideachta Phoiblí Theoranta (cpt)
Designated Activity Company (dac) - Cuideachta Ghníomhaíochta Ainmnithe (cga)
Company Limited by Guarantee (clg) - Cuideachta faoi Theorainn Ráthaíochta (ctr)
Unlimited company (uc) - Cuideachta Neamhtheoranta (cn).
- Only the name of a Societas Europaea can be preceded or followed by the abbreviation SE. Use of the term ‘SE’ at the beginning or end of the name designates that it is a European Company.
- Please note that there may be a requirement for some management companies to include Owners’ Management Company in the company name. S. 14(3) of the Multi-Unit Developments Act 2011 provides that “the words “Owners’ Management Company” shall be included in the name of every owners management company to which this section applies”. This section applies to owners management companies of multi-unit developments in respect of which no contract for the sale of a residential unit has been entered prior to the enactment of this act or of a mixed use multi-unit development subject to section 2. Section 14 was commenced on 24th January 2011.

4.2 Where can I check my proposed company name?

Applicants are advised to check that the name proposed is not similar to one already registered by checking the register of companies which you can do free of charge on the CRO web search facility. The search facility provides round the clock access to company information. It is identical to that available in the CRO public office and the results are instantly displayed. For further information visit www.cro.ie/search/

The CRO does not check proposed names against names on the business names register or the trade mark register. Applicants are, therefore, advised to check those registers to ensure the proposed company name does not conflict with a business name or trade mark since any person claiming to have a right to that name could take a passing off action to defend his/her interest.

You can search the business names register at the CRO (as with the register of companies, you can also use the CRO web search facility) and the trade mark register at:

It is important to check that the name you want is not too similar to another name on the register of companies before you submit the company formation documents. If your chosen name is too similar to the name of another company, and is accepted for registration by the CRO, through inadvertence or otherwise, an objection on grounds of similarity could be made in writing to the Registrar of Companies within six months following the incorporation of your company and you could be directed by the Registrar to change the company name. In considering whether names are too alike, the Registrar will take account of all relevant factors suggesting similarity and leading to confusion between the names of the two companies.

If the Registrar, pursuant to section 30 Companies Act 2014, directs a company to change its name, such change must take place within six weeks of the date of the Registrar's direction or such longer period as he/she may allow. A company that fails to comply with the direction will be eligible for prosecution.

4.3 Reserve a Company Name

The reservation of a company name facility, which allows for a company name to be reserved for a period up to 28 days, is available in electronic form and can be found in CORE in the "File a Form" section. You cannot reserve a Business (Trading) Name. The application fee for reservation of a company name is €25 and this may be offset against your application for a new company if the reserve name certificate is submitted with the new application Form A1 within the specified period of 28 days. Section 30(2) also applies to reservation of a company name (see 4.2).

The facility may also be used as a search tool enabling customers to check a proposed name against existing company names on the CRO register, and whether a proposed name would be considered acceptable by the CRO. This service is in addition to the existing "Company Search" function where you can check that the name proposed is not similar to one already registered.

4.4 Where must the company name be displayed?

Every business must paint or affix its name on the outside of every office or place in which the business is carried on, even if it is a director's home. The name must be both conspicuous and legible.

4.5 On which documents must the company name be shown?

The company must state its name, in legible lettering, on company letter heads, order forms, invoices, etc. For further information on the statutory requirements, see Information Leaflet No. 7, "Disclosure and Publication Requirements in relation to Companies and Business Names".

4.6 Can I incorporate a DAC/CLG company without including the word "Designated Activity Company" or "Company Limited by Guarantee" in the company's name?

The word "Designated Activity Company" or "Company Limited by Guarantee" may be dropped from the company's name where the company is a Designated Activity Company or a Company Limited by Guarantee and the constitution of the company states that the objects will be the promotion of commerce, art, science, education, religion or charity. In addition, the company's constitution must state that

- (a) the profits of the company (if any) or other income are required to be applied to the promotion of the objects;
- (b) payment of dividends/distributions to its members is prohibited;
- (c) all assets which would otherwise be available to its members are required to be transferred on its winding up to another company whose objects are the promotion of commerce, art, science, religion or charity.

It should be noted, however, that a company which is exempted from the obligation to use the words as part of its name, is still obliged to show on its letters and order forms the fact that it is such a company.

4.6.1 How can I apply to exclude the words “Designated Activity Company” or “Company Limited by Guarantee” from the name of the company?

Complete Form G5 and submit this form to the CRO together with your application for incorporation. This form cannot be submitted on its own. You should ensure that the company’s constitution comply with the statutory requirements.

If, after incorporation, you wish to apply for an exemption, you must submit Form G5 with Forms G1Q and G1, along with the amended constitution.

For further information see Information Leaflet No. 24, “Exemption from use of Company Type Suffix as part of company name”.

5. COMPANY INCORPORATION ALTERNATIVES

A company can be filed in paper form (form A1 and constitution) or can be completed online using CORE, www.core.ie. If completed online, the certificate of incorporation can be issued within five working days of receipt. No queuing to lodge documents in the cash office. No cash handling if paid for using a credit card. The website has a User-friendly interface and completion of the document can be done in a matter of minutes.

6. LOOKING FORWARD – POST INCORPORATION OBLIGATIONS

A full listing of CRO forms is available on www.cro.ie. The most commonly filed forms and documents are:

6.1 Form A4

A public limited company must not commence any business or exercise any borrowing powers until a certificate entitling it to commence business has been issued by the CRO. To acquire such a certificate, the company must file Form A4 which confirms that the nominal value of the company’s allotted share capital is not less than €25,000.

6.2 Form B1 (Annual return)

A company is obliged to deliver an annual return at least once a year to the CRO. An annual return contains details of the company’s directors and secretary, its registered office, details of shareholders and share capital. The return is required to be made up to the company’s Annual Return Date (ARD) and filed with the CRO within 28 days of that date. A company’s first ARD is six months after its date of incorporation. A Form B1 (and associated financial statements) must be filed online and can be completed at www.core.ie for a fee of €20. .

6.3 Form B2 (Change of registered office)

Every company is required by law to have a registered office within the jurisdiction. This is the address to which all official documents, notices, court papers are required to be sent by law. The address must be a physical location, not just a post office box number, because people have the right to visit the company’s registered office to inspect certain registers and documents and to deliver documents by hand.

A company notifies its change of address by sending a completed Form B2 within 14 days of the date of the change. The form must be completed online and the web version can be filed free of charge on www.core.ie. It is an offence not to so notify the CRO.

6.4 Form B10 (Change of directors and secretary or in their details)

Form B10 is filed by a company in order to notify the appointment of an officer post-incorporation, the cessation of an officer’s appointment (resignation, removal, death, etc.) and to notify the CRO of a change in particulars in relation to an officer e.g. a change of name or a new residential address.

Form B10 is required to be sent to the CRO within 14 days of the change occurring. It is an offence not to so notify the CRO. The form must be completed online and can be filed free of charge by completing the web version on www.core.ie.

If a director becomes disqualified in a foreign jurisdiction subsequent to appointment Form B74a should be submitted.

6.5 Form G1/G2/G1Q (Resolutions)

(a) Special/Ordinary resolutions (other than resolutions for change of name) which are presented for filing must be either printed or typed and dated. The resolution must be signed by a current officer of the company per CRO records. It should be noted that special rules apply where resolutions are passed granting assistance by the company for the purchase of its own shares. These resolutions may be filed free of charge online at www.core.ie.

(b) Special resolutions for change of name (Form G1Q): Special resolutions for change of name must be printed or typed and dated and the current name of the company must match that on the certificate of incorporation. No other resolutions should appear on this form. A copy of the revised constitution showing the new company name must be submitted with the resolution and Form G1Q. Form G1Q can be completed online at www.core.ie but still incurs a €50 filing fee rather than the paper filing fee of €100. See Information Leaflet No. 8, "Change of Company Name".

6.6 Re-registration (from one company type to another)

Most company re-registration types can be completed by the submission of Form D20 along with a special resolution and a copy of the new constitution. Certain types of re-registration may require the submission of additional documents. Please see Part 20 of the Companies Act 2014 and information leaflet 35 for more information.

Public limited company to Societas Europaea. (Form SE4 and SE12).

A plc may be converted into an SE where the plc has for 2 years had a subsidiary governed by the laws of another Member State. See information leaflet 19 regarding SE's.

7. FURTHER INFORMATION

7.1 Where can I go for help?

You should consult www.cro.ie for further information. While CRO staff will be able to advise you on matters generally, it is important to get things right when starting a company. It may, therefore, be appropriate to consult a solicitor, company formation agent, a chartered secretary or accountant as appropriate.

7.2 How do I send information to the CRO?

If you wish to deliver documents by hand (personally or by courier) to the Public Office of the CRO.

If you wish to send documents by post you should address them to:

Companies Registration Office, O'Brien Road, Carlow, County Carlow.

Exceptions - correspondence which should continue to be sent to Gloucester Place Lower Dublin 1

In order to facilitate the prompt and efficient processing of the following documents, they should continue to be posted to the named sections:

- J Forms (Electronic Filing Agent Applications)
- General Correspondence.
- Statutory filings for:
  - New Companies,
  - Company Re-registration
  - External Companies
  - Mortgages/Charges
  - Change of Company Name
  - Resolutions/Changes to Memorandum & Articles

Envelopes should be clearly marked on the outside for the attention of the relevant section as per the list above (eg MORTGAGES).

7.2.1 Why should I file my post-incorporation documents online?

Online notification of changes to registered particulars is free, secure and quick. It is more reliable and more efficient than using paper and can cut down on administration. The facility provides for the completion of forms online, the results to be printed, signed and submitted to the CRO. The status of electronically filed forms can also be checked at any time. Certain forms are required to be filed online such as the form B1, B2, B10 and B73 as well as mortgage registration.

7.3 How can I better manage my business with the CRO?

CORE (Companies Online Registration Environment) allows presenters to view, in a managed environment, up to date information on companies for which they are filing agent.

CORE enables them to:

- Check the status of their companies in lists which can be sorted in various orders
- Receive notification of filings for companies in their portfolio and of changes in the status of those documents
- Watch their companies
- Obtain their CRO account balance, transactions and statements

CORE can also help them protect companies from corporate identity theft by fraudsters who may attempt to change details of a company such as the officers, registered office or even company name and then use that company to defraud third parties into supplying goods and services or to obtain a good credit rating in order to borrow. By notifying them of any filings and of changes in the status of those documents they are provided with early warning signals of possible fraud.

CORE normally permits only one user at a time to view watched companies. So, should a professional advisor already have a company on his/her list and the company officer also wishes to watch his/her own company, a request can be submitted from within CORE.

For more details on CORE see www.core.ie
